Inspiring Bright Futures

PROMOTING COMMUNICATION AND LANGUAGE

Lighthouse School Leeds is now offering training and outreach support from our school training suite or in house if required.

How do I improve communication for an individual with Autism? What is language and communication and how is this different in Autism? What strategies can I use to increase understanding and speaking?

Our promoting communication workshop will support professionals working with young people with Autism develop further knowledge of communication deficits within Autism and how they can match strategies of support to promote positive communication within individuals with Autism.

During the session you will receive:

- Language and communication use and reflect on your own communication style.
- Being able to identify areas that can impact on successful communication.
- Exploring clear communication strategies to help engaging more positively with the preferred style of people on the autism spectrum – including delegate problem solving.
- Advise on techniques that have worked at Lighthouse School to support increasing language used by students.

The facilitators of the workshop are qualified Speech Therapy Staff from Lighthouse school team and have experience of working with Autistic individuals in a variety of settings.
